HOUSE DEFEATS EFFORT TO GET BILL THROUGH

Rejects Suspensions of Rules on Motion on Lemke Appropriation

PROPAGANDA CHARGE

League Speakers Say Haste Necessary to Get Money to Fight Cases

The house will consider a bill making an appropriation of $12,000 for the attorney-generals office in the regular order of business. An effort to suspend rules on the bill failed late yesterday afternoon.

Maddock, of Benson, asked for the suspension of rules for his bill making the appropriation for the office to be used between now and July 1. The bill contained clauses stating that it was imperative that the money be appropriated to aid in fighting the railroad rate and grain grading cases. The bill set out that great amounts of money had been saved in these matters.

During the debate Senator Twitchell took the floor and declared that it was the first time he had ever seen an effort made to inject propaganda in a bill, referring to the allusions to the amount of money alleged to have been saved the state on the bills.

Watt of Cass, said that he understood there were ample funds available for the use of the attorney general. Johnson of Pembina, could see no need for hurry.

Patterson of Renville, league floor leader, supported Maddock.

Speaker Takes Floor

Kitchen of Slope-Billings Golden Valley-Bowman, doubted the advisability of suspension of the rules. He said the house was supposed to be a dignified and august body and that the rules had been carefully drawn up to safeguard legislation.

Bills Introduced

Bauer of Sioux, had the day's record for introduction of bills, introducing the only ones, House bills 6 and 7. One provided for continuance in court cases where either parties to the action were members of the legislature and the other is aimed at stealing of horses and cattle, which has been a plague in the western part of the state.

It creates a county branding officer who is given a fee of fifteen cents a head for examining the brands of cattle, horses and mules consigned for shipment and it makes it unlawful for any railroad to accept any consignment of horses, cattle or mules without first securing a certificate from the branding officer. In court this certificate is to be prima facie evidence of facts recited. A penalty of $1,000 is provided for violation of the law.

Blue Sky Body Hears Many Cases

ST. PAUL, Minn., Jan. 11.—Total receipts of the Securities commission for the past year were $58,496.54, while disbursements amounted to $57,898.41, according to a report issued by Charles E. Andre, executive secretary.

More than 130 meetings were held during that period, each meeting extending over one day, and many extending a period of two days each.

There were eighty-six applications received for bank charters of which thirty-four granted, thirty denied, six dismissed, thirteen withdrawn and three are still pending.

The total face value of the various issues of licenses to the numerous stock and kindred firms in the state was $2,270,808,000, while the face value of securities submitted but disapproved for sale amounted to $51,550,000.

GRAIN TERMINAL FOR FARMERS IS ORGANIZED

SIOUX FALLS, S. D., Jan. 10.—The Co-operative Farmers Terminal, which will act as a selling agency for grains, grain products, seed and hay, was organized with a capital stock of $2,000,000, in Minneapolis Friday, it was announced here today by Charles Eyler, secretary-treasurer of the new company. The corporation will operate in the Minneapolis grain trade territory, covering the states of North and South Dakota, Wisconsin, Minnesota and Montana.

PROFITABLE DEPARTMENT.

Pierre, S. D., Jan. 11.—From a financial standpoint, the office of the state sheriff, under John C. Shanks, proved a profitable department for South Dakota during the year 1920. Operating throughout the state with his six assistants, the state sheriff made 402 arrests on charges ranging from first degree murder to gambling and operating automobiles without license plates or lights

Of the total, 171 cases have been disposed of, according to the office records, with 231 cases yet to be completed. The finished cases have brought into the state treasury $15,293.33 in paid fines.

RETURN TO CITY LIFE

HELENA, Mont., Jan. 11.—Homesteaders are selling their lands as soon as they "prove up" on them. Many sellers are former service men who obtained the lands for speculation. "Not many desire to lead the simple life," says Joseph Oker, of the U. S. Land Office.

THE WADE-NOTT TRIANGLE

This triangle was formerly a quadrangle, Mr. and Mrs. Elwood Wade and Mr. and Mrs. George Nott making it up. But Wade (above) killed Nott because of infatuation for Mrs. Nott (right). Mrs. Wade is shown below.

LOVE GONE MAD IN WADE-NOTT MURDER CASE

Two Homes Wrecked as Result of Emotions Let Run Riot

BY ZOE BECKLEY

Bridgeport, Conn., Jan. 11.—And they presume to call it "love"—this force that it's charged drove a woman and two men to commit murder, break a young wife's heart, destroy two homes and laugh at parenthood!

Poor love! No wonder Cupid cowers behind the witness chair and weeps for very shame.

Mary Seery, intelligent and educated, loved and married Elwood Wade, of good family but so limited mentally that she could not in a whole week teach him that seven times nine are 63.

He is tall, well built, with nice hair and rosy skin, prominent blue eyes, good teeth and a nose uncommonly retrousse. And Mary loved and married him. She was 19; he 18. She didn't learn of his illiteracy till afterward. They have two babies, four and three.

Becomes Infatuated

Wade became infatuated with a woman of 31, Ethel, wife of George Nott. Mrs. Nott "loved" the Wade youth. They defied the conventions, as the woman testified upon the witness stand.

The murder of the husband was decided upon—the man who had also been "loved" by the woman and was the father of her two children, 13 and 11.

Nott was killed, the weapons used being a revolver, a butcher knife, a club, a hatchet, and an iron pipe.

John E. Johnson, charged with being an accomplice in the affair, denies guilt.

Wade has made a confession and constantly protests his "love" for Mrs. Nott.

Alienists employed in his defense are pleading his love made him mad with desire to free Mr. Nott from her husband's mistreatment.

Exhibition of His Love

Wade gave a spectacular exhibition of this love by suddenly seizing Mrs. Nott in the courtroom and kissing her.

A few hours later this fervent lover sneered and grimaced at Mrs. Nott when she testified, laying full blame for the uncommonly hideous crime upon him, striving wildly to save herself.

Is this, then, also love?

A false and poisoned love! A love such as her son is apt to rear its head here a girl of Mary's years and call her allows herself to wed a lad against whom all her finer emotions must have arrayed themselves.

PIKE'S CHARGE FOR SERVICES FINALLY PAID

Lawyer Gets $7,716—New Auditor Says Kositzky Wrong in Holding It Up

The bill of $7,716 for the services of Fred Pike, St. Paul lawyer, has been paid by the state of North Dakota, according to D. C. Poindexter, state auditor. When the bill was presented by the auditing board a few days before he went out of office, Carl Kositzky refused to pay it.

"Kositzky had no authority to refuse payment," said Mr. Poindexter. "The bill had been approved by the auditing board and it was the duty of the state auditor to execute this order of the auditing board."

SCHOOLS' HEAD SERIOUSLY ILL AT RESIDENCE

J. M. Martin Suffers From An Attack of Erysipelas

J. M. Martin, superintendent of the city schools, is confined to his home with a severe attack of erysipelas. Mr. Martin suffered an attack of tonsilitis several days ago which was succeeded by the more severe illness, but no complications have developed. A special nurse is in attendance, and it will require a considerable length of time for Mr. Martin to regain his strength, it is believed.

There is considerable sickness in the city, chiefly colds, tonsilitis and bronchitis. The contagious disease report, which was submitted to the city commission last night, did not show an unusual number of contagious diseases.

There are nine cases of smallpox being treated in the city detention hospital, and two cases of measles are reported.

TAXPAYERS IN PROTEST OVER BOARD ACTION

Board Reduces Valuation of Patterson Property Subject to Approval

ALLEGE DISCRIMINATION

Head of County Board Answers That Board Action Is of No Importance

A number of taxpayers in the city, having learned that the board of county commissioners had granted the reduction in the assessment property of E. G. Patterson, proprietor of the McKenzie and president of the board of county commissioners, subject to approval by the state tax commissioner, announced that they would make similar petitions to the board, and that if they were not granted would take the matter into court on the ground that they and all other taxpayers of the city were discriminated against.

The board of county commissioners, the minutes show, on Dec. 8 adopted this provision: "The application of Edward G. Patterson for a reduction of the assessed valuation of lots 21, 22 and 23 of block 46 O. P. and lots 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11 and 12 of block 48 O. P. from $318,185.00 to $238,500.00 was granted for the year 1919."

This provision of the minutes is included, with others, with the statement appended that all of it is subject to the approval of the state tax commissioner. At the meeting at which the Patterson reduction was made Commissioners Malone, Palms, Swanson and Patterson were present.

Retain Law Firm.

The law firm of O'Hare and Cox was retained at a meeting held today by several taxpayers, and it was stated that similar petitions would be filed with the board of county commissioners, and if the state tax commission granted the reduction for Patterson on the ground that the valuation was excessive and failed to grant a similar reduction on their property, action would be taken in the courts to obtain redress. The reduction they will ask, it was said, will be proportionate to that granted Patterson. Otherwise the property of the taxpayers, representing the most valuable property in the city, would be discriminated against, as would the property of all other taxpayers, it was said.

The reduction the commissioners recommended for Patterson was $19,685.00 on the valuation which would give a tax reduction of about $2,900, it is said.

Patterson's Answer.

The taxpayers who retained O'Hare and Cox to represent them included the First National bank, C. B. Little; Bismarck Improvement company, Henry Tatley, E. A. Hughes, M. H. Hughes, A. W. Lucas, F. W. Murphy, John Homan and Roy Logan, and it is said that other property owners, who could not attend the meeting, will join.

Answering the contention, E. G. Patterson said:

"We (board of county commissioners) have no power to grant reductions. Most everybody that has asked that we place their case before the state tax commissioner has had the request granted, under the new law. Only two or three have been rejected. The board granted mine just the same as it has granted others, hundreds of others, and just the same as it will grant any others that appear to have any merit to them. The matter is determined by the state tax commissioner, not by this board."

BOTH HOUSES TO RECEIVE AUDIT REPORT

Bishop-Brissman Company Cannot Bring All Accountants

The report of the audit of the state industries will be made to the senate, as well as to the house of representatives.

Lieutenant-Governor Howard Wood this afternoon received a telegram from Bishop-Brissman company, of St. Paul, the accounting company, stating that the order of the senate to submit a copy of the report to president of the senate had been received and would be complied with.

The auditing company, replied, however, that it could not see the necessity of sending all the persons engaged in the work to the senate, because of the difficulty of doing this and the great expense involved, but stated that one expert would be sent to explain the report.

Bishop, Brissman and company also acknowledged receipt of an order from the new auditing board to turn over all records to the new board. It was this action of the new board, it is said, which prompted the introduction of the resolution in the house calling for the audit board report.

As the matter now stands, it is expected that the report will be made both to the senate and the house.

RICHEST VILLAGE.

Hibbing, Minn., Jan. 11.—Hibbing, which gained fame as "the richest village in the world," may lose that distinction. Mayor Victor L. Power has proposed that the village be incorporated into a city. Through this plan, Hibbing would annex territory in the township of Stuntz, southwest and east of Hibbing, which would give the proposed City of Hibbing an increased valuation of approximately $33,000,000, it is estimated.

DISARMAMENT CONFERENCE DANIELS PLEA

Appearing Before House Naval Committee Outlines Plans

POINTS FOR HARDING

Secretary of Navy Outlines Advice to President-Elect

Washington, Jan. 11.—An international agreement "with all or practically all the nations which will guarantee an end of competition in navy building was presented as the only alternative to the building by the United States of a navy powerful enough "to command the respect and the fear of the world" by Secretary Daniels in testimony today before the house naval affairs committee.

The naval secretary, who appeared before the committee in connection with its consideration of the subject of disarmament dismissed as unworthy of discussion a third proposal for an American navy less than equal to the most powerful sea power in the world, "because it is a waste of money to spend money on an agency of war which would be helpless if needed."

Outlines Advice.

In presenting his views to the committee Mr. Daniels took occasion to outline the advice which he would give to President-elect Harding should he be asked for counsel on naval matters. This advice took the form of a suggestion that Mr. Harding immediately upon his inauguration invite the nations of the world to meet with representatives of the United States in a disarmament conference.

Characterizing the conversation between the United States, Great Britain and Japan provided for in the pending resolution introduced by Senator Borah, of Idaho, as a "half way" measure Mr. Daniels reiterated his opposition to this country's entering into such an agreement.

Naval Holiday.

"A naval holiday for one year or any period is like applying a poultice when surgery is needed," declared the secretary. "It is little, if any better than the suggested half-way agreement between the United States and two nations which have a treaty of alliance. An alliance limited to the United States, Great Britain and Japan would make for suspicion and distrust and would be followed later by a counter entente of the nations jealous of what they regard as an Anglo-Saxon and Japanese alliance to dictate to the world."

COMMERCE CLUB LUNCHEON WILL BE HELD FRIDAY

Three Directors to Be Selected at Annual Meeting of Body

The Bismarck Commercial club's annual meeting will be held Friday, Jan. 14.

The club will hold a luncheon at the Grand Pacific hotel at 12:30 p. m. on that day. Reports for the year will be submitted to the membership, which is over 200.

The election of three directors will be the chief order of business. The directors whose terms expire are P. R. Fields, Henry Deumeland, and W. E. Lahr.

The club has shown a good growth during the past year and President Young expects that there will be a large attendance at the luncheon. Many important questions are to be discussed.

WHOLE VILLAGE WILL WELCOME BALLOONISTS

Expected That Naval Survivors Will Reach Civilization Tonight

BALLOONISTS ARRIVE.

Buffalo, N. Y., Jan. 11.—A special from Toronto to the Evening News quotes the Toronto Telegram's Mattice correspondent as saying that the American naval balloonists arrived there at 2:30 p. m.

Mattice, Ont., Jan. 11.—Three American naval balloonists, Lieuts. Farnell, Hinton and Kloor—broke camp at Skunk Island, 20 miles north of here early today and started on the last leg of their long trek back to civilization, according to reports here by Indian runners. If all goes well, the trio, should reach this little frontier settlement by nightfall and a royal welcome awaits them.

They reached the island last night after traveling for nearly 15 days from Moose Factory where their craft was wrecked in a forest, after a wild flight from Rockaway, N. Y.

When the men arrive at the rail head here, they will be met by town and Dominion officials and afforded every courtesy. A special train has been provided for their convenience.

Mattice is on the tip-toe of expectancy for what promises to be the biggest day in its history.

Will Post Mrs. Harding

MRS. HARDING'S SECRETARY.—Miss Margaret Wade, newspaper writer, has been mentioned as social secretary to Mrs. Warren G. Harding. She held a similar post with Mrs. Fairbanks, wife of the former vice president, and has a wide social acquaintance, which began when she was editor of the society page of a Washington paper.

DEMAND ROOMS FOR VISITORS TO THE CITY

Commercial Club Secretary Says More Accommodations Are Imperative

CALLS ON CITIZENS

With Five Conventions Listed This Week The Need Is Urgent

Bismarck visitors need accommodations.

With the legislature in session and conventions coming to the city many people cannot be accommodated unless citizens open up their homes to visitors, George N. Keniston, secretary of the Commercial club, said today.

There are five conventions listed for Bismarck this week. They are: County superintendents' meeting, from Thursday until the end of the week; the Grammen's Union, today; state billiard and poolroom men, today; Nonpartisan league county convention, today; Nonpartisan league station convention, January 14. In addition arrangements were made yesterday for a convention of the Mechanics' Mutual Benefit association here on Feb. 2 and 3. Geo. Mantenack, of Velva, is president, and Rep. J. H. Burns, of Surrey, is secretary of the convention.

Mr. Keniston asks every citizen who is willing to rent a room to call 313, Commercial club.

The hotels are crowded, and the guests have shown an unselfish spirit in doubling up, Mr. Keniston says. It is imperative that more accommodations be obtained. People who make a business of taking roomers filled their places long ago, and it is now up to citizens who do not ordinarily take roomers to offer to do so, he added.

GRAIN MEN TO DISCUSS BILLS BEFORE SOLONS

Many Meetings Being Held at Commercial Club Rooms

Officials of the Grain Men's union, an organization comprising four states, and sectional representatives are holding conferences at the Commercial club rooms regarding legislation proposed for the present session.

Among those present are: N. W. Miracle of Fargo, secretary; W. W. Reed of Amenia, a well-known North Dakota farmer and grain man, and L. H. Palmer of Hurdsfield, vice president of the organization.

County superintendents of schools of the state will begin meetings at the Commercial club rooms tomorrow to consider legislation on educational matters.

POPULATION OF CHINA IS CHIEF ISSUE

Pittsburg, Jan. 11.—The population of China is the question at issue which the Allegheny case has taken under advisement. A two to one bet on the number of inhabitants in China resulted in the action which was brought by Dr. Grgich against Alderman Wm. Kroeger, of Duquesne. Grgich seeks to recover $180, his end of the bet, which sum, he charged was paid to George Sumner after Kroeger had ruled that the population of China was "about 400,000,000." Kroeger told the court that he arrived at the figure by consulting all available authority, but Grgich dissented. All evidence in the case was completed yesterday but the court decided that the question at issue was a very weighty subject and announced that a verdict would not be rendered for at least a week.

CUT FRILLS IS HARDING ORDERS ON INAUGURAL

If President-Elect Has His Way There Will Be Absolute Simplicity

MAY ELIMINATE BALL

Requests $50,000 for Grandstand Seats Be Abandoned Also

Marion, Jan. 11.—If President-elect Harding has his way the inauguration on March 4 will be as devoid of frills as a frontier wedding. Having overturned plans for a revival of the inaugural ball and a spectacular inaugural parade he indicated today that so far as he consistently could he would keep away from whatever crowds assembled in Washington for the event and make the change of administration just a matter of taking the executive offices under new management.

Simple Ceremony.

Instead of taking the oath from a specially built platform on the capitol building steps he suggested that it be administered quickly within the capitol itself and that he be left free to go to work without more adieu.

The time-honored custom of delivering an inaugural address which has been observed since the formation of the republic is to be retained as a part of the day's ceremonies, but it is considered likely here that it will be very brief.

By his actions the president-elect ended a bitter row in congress where several influential republicans had protested vigorously against the plans of the inauguration committee to make the occasion one of the biggest quadrennial celebrations the capital has ever seen.

Drop Appropriations.

Not only did Mr. Harding request that the $50,000 appropriated for the grandstand seats on the capitol grounds be dropped but he asks that not a cent of money be spent on his induction into office. How far the inauguration officials and public will let Mr. Harding have his way remains to be seen. To prevent a street parade in honor of the new president may be more difficult. Thousands already have made their plans to see Mr. Harding ride down Pennsylvania avenue.

This, however, is a problem which the inaugural officials in Washington will have to cope with.

William Hale Thompson, mayor of Chicago, and the center of a bitter fight within republican ranks during the last campaign, was among President-elect Harding's callers today.

POOL HALL MEN URGE CIGARETTE LICENSE LAW

Legislature to Be Asked to Repeal State License Measure

Pool hall men of the state will ask the legislature to pass a law giving dealers permission to sell cigarettes on the payment of $50 as a license fee, part of this money to go to the attorney general's office for the enforcement of the act.

This statement was made today by J. D. Wilde of Grand Forks, secretary of the North Dakota Billiard Hall association, who is here for the meeting late this afternoon of representatives of the association from all over the state.

Mr. Wilde declares another law which the legislature will be asked to pass is one repealing the present law creating a state license bureau. If this is done the license would revert back to the cities and towns, which would also have full police power.

"We are here," said Mr. Wilde, "to discuss matters of interest in general to the pool hall men of the state. We want to stop the vicious legislation which F. L. Watkins of the North Dakota Enforcement league, is attempting to have passed.

"The state license bureau is just a duplication of expense. City and town officials do most of the policing anyway.

"We realize that it is necessary to maintain a high standard in the conduct of billiard halls and it is up to us ourselves to see that this is done."

HARDING QUITS AS U. S. SENATOR

Marion, O., Jan. 11.—With his resignation as a senator on the desk of the incoming governor of Ohio, President-elect Harding today was looking forward to six weeks as a private citizen before taking up the responsibilities as president.

PLAN WITHDRAWAL.

Washington, Jan. 11.—Immediate withdrawal of the United States from further participation in the council of ambassadors in Europe was reported to be decided upon.

RECORDS DESTROYED

Washington, Jan. 11.—Valuable records dating back to 1890 were destroyed in a fire at the department of commerce.

'YOUTH' CHARM OF TENOR WHO SINGS HERE

Bismarck Will Have Opportunity Jan. 18 to Hear Really Good Artist

To describe a personality in one word, is to reveal its individuality. Thus Lincoln is a synonym for honesty, and Shaw a paraphrase of brilliancy.

There is an American singer who stands the test of the ne word characterization. That singer is Theo Karle. He is youth.

In the five surprising seasons before the public, Theo Karle has brought to the art of the concert stage nothing that does not reveal the vital force of being young. His voice, a splendid natural instrument and used by him with a happy distinction, his manner, engaging and gracious, his pleasing appearance—all these characteristics are somehow heightened and controlled by a pervading spirit of abundant and youthful enthusiasm. To hear him is to know the joy of song, to feel the irresistible spirit of youth knocking at the doors of toiling age. His is the music of new, unconquered worlds, his the laughter of the youth gods. He appears in Bismarck at auditorium Jan. 18.

It is small wonder then that he is always popular—this frank young American with the voice that thrills you. Theo Karle is a natural favorite of the concert stage. He is youth.

He comes under auspices of the Bismarck Conservatory of Music and is an attraction that should be supported to the limit by the people of Bismarck. Few cities of this size has the opportunity of hearing so great an artist.

Press Criticisms.

Mr. Karle is, in my humble opinion, the greatest American tenor of today.—Herman Devries, critic of the Chicago American, formerly baritone at the Metropolitan Covent Garden and La Scala, and member of the French academy.

Karle, who appeared with Geraldine Farrar in Carmen, won the pronounced favor of the audience, being recalled again and again.—Portland (Me.) Express.

As certainly as the sun shines, this young American is the sort of timber that flashes on the horizon a few times in a generation.—Archie Bell in Cleveland Leader.

A voice of extraordinary power, and yet capable of the tenderest delicacy of tone, which just captivates his hearers.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

The great natural beauty of Karle's voice, the poignancy of its appeal, its flawless cantilena, his taste in phrasing, artistic discretion in the use of light and shade—in fact his splendid singing received an ovation.—Washington Post.

Personal Charm.

Mixed tenderness, dramatic power, clarity, personal charm, and a master's control, and you have the Karle voice.—San Francisco Bulletin.

Karle, after his first song, could have sung anything else he liked—his work was accomplished; the house was his.—Los Angeles Times.

Karle could inspire an army, and it was good to hear the old time bravos again.—Los Angeles Herald.

It was one of those glorious and exceptional recitals, where you can hear a pin drop for all the stillness. And what is better proof of high standard of art, of emotions set atirring in the breast, or the beauty of his voice, than the absolute silence that preceded each number, and also delayed the wild outburst of applause, at the conclusion?—Sacramento Bee.

The bravos that began resounding through Carnegie, last night, after Karle's second number, proved that the Westerner had something New York liked. Gifted voice. Rare beauty. Unusual elasticity. Genial, eloquent manner.—New York Evening Mail.

The genuinely beautiful quality of his voice asserted itself. Karle also has an ingratiating personality, and a certain interpretative kinship with John McCormack in his sincerity and ability to humanize songs.—New York Tribune.

SAINT PAUL WOMAN GETS OVER TROUBLE

Miss Paddock Says Tanlac Has Restord Her to Perfect Health After Years of Suffering

"It's just wonderful the way Tanlac has built me up and relieved me of my troubles," said Miss Anna Paddock, of 1042 Randolph St., St. Paul, Minn.

"For more than two years before I got Tanlac my stomach was in a badly disordered condition. There were a number of things I never dared to eat, but no matter how careful I was about my diet I bloated up with gas and had intense pains after eating. I also had severe pains in my sides and my nerves wouldn't let me rest day or night. In spite of everything I could do I kept getting worse and just felt weak, miserable and despondent all the time.

"But Tanlac helped me from the first few doses and now all my troubles are gone. I can hardly get enough to eat and can eat just whatever I please and never feel a touch of indigestion. The pains have gone from my side, my nerves are steady and I sleep fine. Tanlac has made me like an altogether different person."

Tanlac is sold in Bismarck by Jos. Breslow, in Driscoll by N. D. and J. H. Barrette, in Wing by H. P. Homan, and in Strasburg by Strasburg Drug Co. —advt.

$50 NOTE GROWS TO $210,000

(N. E. A. Staff Special)

Syracuse, Jan. —Sir John Winslow lent the colony of New Hampshire $50 for revolutionary purposes in 1774.

In return he received a note signed by the secretary and treasurer of the state, to be repaid at six per cent interest.

William F. Morgan, Syracuse machinist and direct descendant of Sir John, holds the note and is preparing to cut the $210,000 oak that grew from the $50 acorn.

Morgan claims that as an heir to the note, the state of New Hampshire now owes him the principal and accrued interest.

"I've made and lost two fortunes and the prospects of a third one does not ruffle me," says Morgan. "If I collect I won't go into the movies. And I won't need a wife—I have one.

HUSBAND AND WIFE BOTH DIE WITHIN HOUR

Peter Cressinger and Wife, Both Well Known Here Succumb

Tacoma, Wash., Jan. 10.—Peter Cressinger, 82, and his wife, Mary J. Cressinger, 79, both well known in Bismarck and Mandan, died here early Friday morning within one hour of each other's death. Mr. Cressinger died first and his widow passed away without knowing her aged husband and livelong companion had died. Pneumonia caused both deaths. The deaths occurred within a month of their 58th wedding anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. Cressinger are survived by three daughters, Mrs. P. W. McCillic of Mandan, Mrs. H. H. Chamberlain of Tacoma and Mrs. H. T. Murphy of Bismarck. A number of grandchildren and great grandchildren also survive the aged couple.

The funeral services for Mr. Cressinger were held Monday under the auspices of the Masonic order of which he had been a member for 61 years. Mrs. Cressinger was buried at the same time with Catholic ceremonies.

Mr. and Mrs. Cressinger were neighbors back in Alliance, Ohio, where they were both born, and a boy and girl friendship ripened into love and marriage at Millport, Ohio. They moved to Mandan, North Dakota, in 1881 and lived there for 24 years. In 1905 Mr. and Mrs. Cressinger moved to Tacoma where Mr. Cressinger was employed as a carpenter in the Southern Pacific shops up to a few weeks before his end.

During October, 1920, the aged couple went to North Dakota and visited their many friends and relatives at Bismarck and Mandan. They returned to the coast and during the Christmas holidays visited their granddaughter, Mrs. A. E. Pugh of Seattle, and it was during this time, it is believed, Mr. and Mrs. Cressinger caught the colds which developed into pneumonia and caused their deaths.

Western Union Charges Pressure in Cable Case

Unfilled Orders of Steel Very Low

New York, Jan. 10.—The monthly tonnage report of the United States Steel corporation, made public here today, shows 8,148,122 tons of unfilled orders on hand Dec. 31. This is a decrease from last month's unfilled orders which totaled 9,021,481 tons. This reduces unfilled orders of the corporation to the smallest total since 1919.

Moderate Setback In Wheat Prices

Chicago, Jan. 10.—Bears had an advantage in the wheat market today owing to the fact that this has been a traditional favorite date for calendar speculators to take to the selling side. Opening quotations which ranged from unchanged figures to 1 1-2 cents lower were followed by a moderate setback all around and then something of a rally.

SUPERSTITIOUS?

BUSINESS IMPROVES FROM NOW ON ASSERTS STEEL EXPERT

BY ALBERT APPLE

The crisis of the business depression has been passed and conditions will gradually improve from now on. This is the opinion of a conservative expert—Horace S. Wilkinson, head of the Crucible Steel Co.

Wilkinson shares the belief of the leading manufacturers and bankers, that full-time factory operation and heavy buying by consumers are waiting only until prices reach bottom.

"That time is close at hand," says Wilkinson. "The dollar soon again will buy 100 cents worth."

Pick-Up Starts Where?

Probably in New York and New England districts for price defiation is fastest there.

Steel trade expects heavy buying to start within eighty days. Big business men think that when steel industry revives it will touch a match to general business revival.

Stock market apparently is near bottom. Present low levels are about the same as three years ago when a two-years' upward movement set in. When market begins climing healthily, prosperity is not far off. Stocks anticipate depression, also booms.

Trend of Wages

New wage scale in many industries averages a cut of 25 per cent. Prices are falling twice as fast as wages. That appears to be a settled policy in the big offices.

Spring Dresses Cheaper

The Associated Dress Industries of America announce that prices of spring dresses will be lower.

But skirts may soon be longer, to use up surplus cotton, silk and wool.

Wool sales are heavier. Carpet makers are the big buyers. But South American wool heads the sales list.

In cotton, the bad news is all in, say brokers. Exports have been running half less than a year ago. Several large textile makers this week cut cotton goods another 20 to 56 per cent.

Meat Stocks Low

Meat and lard in cold storage is less than a two weeks' supply, says American Institute of Meat Packers. Meat wholesale is dropping to pre-war prices.

Butter hoarders are caught, many losing ten cents a pound.

"Made in Germany"

Germany is recapturing Spanish markets from English and Americans. She has taken away the big toy trade we built up in Chile. Brazil is canceling American orders right and left, Germany underselling us sixty per cent.

Rehabilitation of Europe awaits definite fixing of amount of German indemnity. That must be settled by May 1, under peace treaty terms, to be paid in full in thirty years.

Canadian dollar has slumped to eighty-six cents in terms of American money. Canada hasn't dropped. Uncle Sam's gone up.

A financial panic is raging in Vienna.

Good News

About $900,000,000 worth of state and county highway bonds have been voted recently. As soon as the bonds are sold, work will begin, employing hundreds of thousands.

Hard coal is off $4 a ton in some cities. Caused by paralysis of export demand.

Automobile buying is expected to pick up after January and February auto shows, says George M. Graham, Pierce-Arrow official. Ford plant probably resumes Feb. 1. Tire production now is only twenty per cent normal.

MCNAIR WOULD GIVE LICENSE TO AVIATORS

Bill Introduced Provides for Control of Sky Pilots

HONOR JUDGE ENGERUD

Senator H. H. McNair of Traill county, would grant to some three of the present aviators of the state, appointment to a board of aviation for the control of all exhibition passenger and commercial plane pilots.

Senate bill No. 9, introduced Monday, calls for "an act to license commercial aviators in the state of North Dakota; to establish a board of examiners who shall have power to examine aircraft and flyers; to pass upon the qualifications, efficiency and character of applicants and fitness of machines, to grant license or refuse the same; to collect fees, formulate rules for the guidance of the board and do such other acts as may be necessary to carry out the purpose of this act, etc."

Section one provides for exemption from examination of all persons now engaged in the business in the state.

The board of examiners would be made up of three resident aviators who hold certificates of the Federation Aeronautique Internationale, or who have piloted planes and have record of 200 hours in the air. They would hold offices for two, four and six years in order of their appointment by the governor.

Must Pass Test

Hereafter all pilot applicants must pass application to the aviation board and must be examined and pass a test on their "flying ability, judgment and other physical capabilities peculiar to piloting aircraft." The plans must also be approved.

The board may refuse a license or revoke the same for "immoral conduct, persistent and chronic inebriety, mental aboration, excessive use of narcotics, persistent carelessness, negligence or foolhardiness." Penalty for violation may be $200 to $500 fine or not less than 30 or more than 90 days in jail.

The board will acknowledge the qualifications of all present aviators and issue a license upon payment of $15.00 fee, the non-resident fee being placed at $100.00. The law shall not apply to aviators who are passing over the state, stopping only for supplies.

Special permits for each day of performances may be issued to nationally known pilots who may come into the state for exhibitions.

Pay for the board, traveling and other expenses will be paid out of the fees collected, all surplus to go into a fund for establishment of permanent landing fields in the state.

For Highway Bill

The senate voted unanimously for the adoption of a resolution by Senator Liederbach of Dunn calling upon the North Dakota congressmen and United States senators to support the so called McArthur bill which provides for a continuation of the federal aid to state highway building work.

Senator Whitman of Grand Forks seconded the motion for passage.

The present federal law expires on June 30, and government aid ceases unless the McArthur bill is adopted in congress.

The secretary of state yesterday certified to the senate and delivered all of the records, transcripts, orders, pleadings, briefs and answers in the Wog-List contest for the senatorial seat of the 39th district.

The hearings in the contest brought by R. J. List, independent, against the seating of Gust Wog, Nonpartisan, will open Wednesday morning in the court room of the Burleigh county court house before the senate elections committee, Senator Hagan chairman.

Howard Wood, president of the senate, appointed Senators Storstad, Rusch and Byrne and members of a joint committee with the house to prepare a suitable memorial to the late Judge Edward Engerud.

The aviation bill was referred to the ways and means committee.

Other bills introduced in the senate on Monday were:

Senate Bill No. 7, Murphy, amending the present inheritance tax law to give exemption to non-residents in certain cases. Referred to tax and taxation committee.

Senate Bill No. 8, Murphy, amending the present law with reference to the sending of feeble minded and idiotic persons to the state institutions, regulating the fees chargeable, and providing that none shall be released from such institutions without the written consent or order of parent and guardian. Referred to state affairs committee.

Senate Bill No. 10, Garberg, defines "dying declarations" and makes the same competent in all civil and criminal actions. Referred to judiciary committee.

Senate Bill No. 11, Rusch, extends the scope of the blue sky law regulations to include the vendors of lightning rods, patent medicines, patent articles, stallions, jackasses, etc. Referred to judiciary committee.

FIRST PICTURE—RESCUE OF LOST BALLOONISTS

The Daily Tribune publishes herewith the first photograph to reach the United States showing the rescue of the three U. S. Navy balloonists who were lost for days in the frozen wilderness of northern Canada.

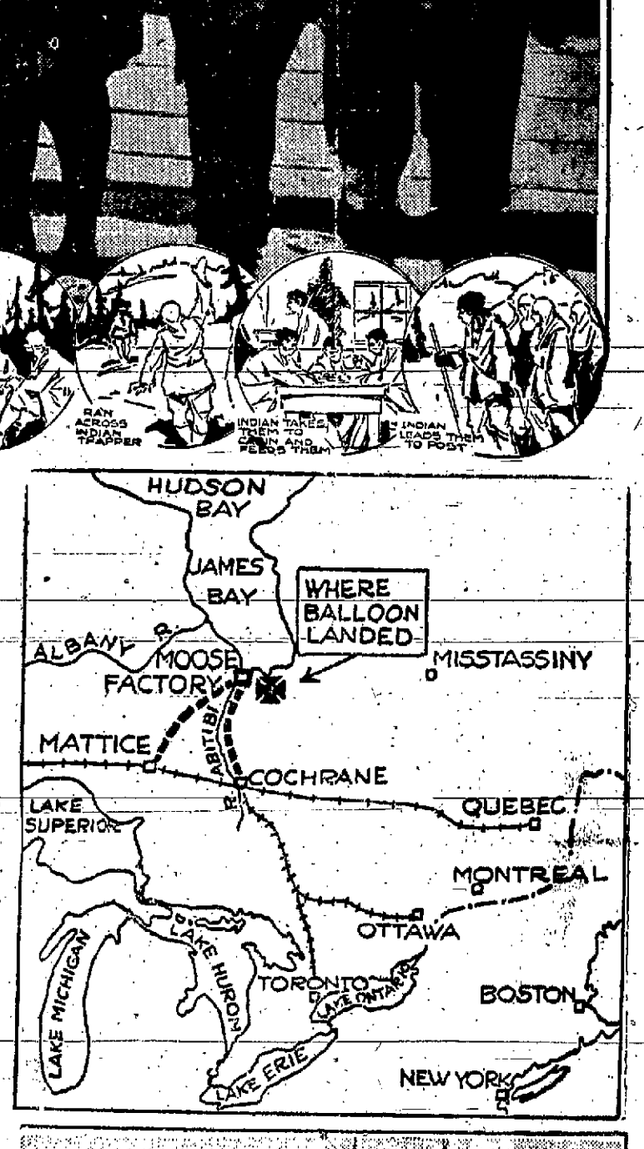

This picture shows the arrival of the half famished Americans at Moose Factory, a trading post, where they were met by J. L. Gaduet of the Hudson Bay Company. Left to right are: Gaduet, Lieut. L. A. Kloor (commander of the balloon), Lieut. Walter Hinton and Lieut. Stephen A. Farrell.

The balloonists left Rockaway, (N. Y.) air station on Dec. 13. A strong gale carried the big gas bag speedily northward. On Dec. 14 the airmen decided to risk a landing and at 2 p. m. they came down in the dense wilderness just south of James Bay (see map). For four days they wandered, half frozen and hungry, through this wild, frozen country, eating caribou moss and finally killing two of their three carrier pigeons for food. Then, with death one day off, they chanced upon an Indian trapper, Tom Marks, who took them to his cabin, gave them food and then led them to Moose Factory. Below the map is a view of Moose Factory, showing also the desolate nature of the country.

After a rest, the balloonists set out by dog sleds, such as that shown in the upper right picture, across the frozen trail leading to Mattice and Cochrane, railroad towns shown on the map.

The arrival picture was taken by S. A. Bradbury, a clerk in the Hudson Bay Company's post at Moose Factory, who was present when the Indian trapper led the exhausted men in.

Bradbury left Moose Factory, carrying the photograph, with the party of messengers that brought out the happy news of the rescue.

FEDERAL BANK SHOWS PROFIT OF FIVE MILLION

Passes More Than Half of Earnings to the Surplus—Rediscounts Nearly Billion

Minneapolis, Jan. 11.—Out of gross earnings of $5,309,368 during the year 1920, the Federal Reserve Bank has retained and added to its surplus fund $2,410,943 after payment of operating expenses, setting up reserves for depreciation upon its new building, charging off the cost of vault construction at the Helena Branch, and payment of dividends. The retention by the bank of the large sum added to surplus is in accordance with the amended provisions of the Federal Reserve Act, but did not prevent the payment into the United States Treasury of $524,233.58 as franchise tax or profit to the Government for the year.

Extension of Credit

The aggregate rediscounts for 1920 indicate total credit extensions to the Ninth Federal Reserve District of very nearly a billion dollars, the largest portion of which was to the states of North Dakota, South Dakota and Montana. The extensions to Minnesota are made up largely of rediscounts for member banks at the centers, the proceeds of which were transferred to the credit of country banks and bankers in order to meet the insistent demands for additional support to agriculture and live stock production. With these credits eliminated, the state of Minnesota, outside of the centers, did not receive accomodation that was out of proportion to the other states of the district.

Power Increase

The banking power of the Federal Reserve Bank has been largely increased by the strengthening of its surplus and by the excellent growth of its capital during the year, due to increases in membership and the strengthening of many member banks. The aggregate capital and surplus an improvement in 1920 of $3,798,000. Member bank reserves however, which are its deposits, show a reduction of $10,307,600, indicating a disposition on the part of members to work closer to their actual legal reserve, and to some extent, a lessened volume of banking deposits in the district at the close of the year.

While the gross earnings were large due to the heavy strain upon credit throughout the year, which was reflected in an inevitably heavy increase in the volume of rediscounts, the net earnings, which were not disbursed except for the payment of the Government franchise tax, dividends, and setting up reserves as authorized by the Federal Reserve Board, served an extremely important purpose in enabling the bank to carry out the provisions of the law and set up its full surplus as contemplated by the amended Federal Reserve Act. Earnings will fluctuate in proportion to the strain on credit and will reduce rapidly when the reconstruction period is completed. After the present year they will accrue to the Government less dividends and such special charges as the Federal Reserve Board may permit. The building up of surplus funds to the legal limit therefore hastens the time when the Federal Treasury will receive the maximum benefit from reserve bank operations.

CUSTER RAID IS REVIVED IN CLAIMS

Indian Tribes Lay Claims to Richest Lands in Black Hills

GREGORY, S. D., Jan. 11.—Reminiscences of the Custer massacre in the Little Big Horn in 1876 are revived by the recent action of South Dakota's Sioux Indian tribes in presenting their demands on Black Hills land before the United States court of claims.

Several million dollars worth of the richest land in the western part of the state is involved in the claim.

The treaty of 1868 provided for payment to the Indians for a section of the country in which the Black Hills are located. No payment was made, and in 1877 another treaty was entered into. By the second treaty the agreement of 1868 was modified so that the clause pertaining to settlement for the land was stricken out.

The Sioux contend that the earlier treaty expressly provided that no modification of its provisions should be held binding, in any treaty, which might be subsequently made.

It is also alleged that the treaty of 1877 in behalf of the Indians was made by a few chiefs, not under full authority, who acted under fear of punishment for their participation in the battle in which Custer and his small command was completely wiped out. Various other uprisings and outbreaks under the reign of Sitting Bull, it is alleged, were brought to bear by the whites in coaxing the chiefs to sign the latter agreement.

To prepare to present their case before the court of claims, Indians representing all Sioux tribes of South Dakota and representatives of the Cheyenne and Arapahoe tribes of Wyoming met at Fort Thompson, S. D., recently. Selection of counsel to handle the red men's claims involved the principal business.

Former President William Howard Taft, Charles Evans Hughes and Joseph E. Davies were recommended as attorneys to represent the Indians in the contest which is said to be one of the biggest ever brought before the National Department of Indian Affairs.

SOUTH DAKOTA URGES STATE CEMENT PLANT

Asks Appropriation of Million for This Purpose

Pierre, S. D., Jan. 11.—Recommendation that a further appropriation of $1,000,000 be made, to be added to a similar appropriation allowed in 1919, for the construction and operation of a state owned cement plant, to be located near Rapid City, is the substance of the report submitted to the South Dakota legislators by the State Cement Commission.

The commission goes into detail, regarding its investigations since its organization in August 1919. The report shows that 41,495 barrels of cement were used in the state in 1919, almost double the amount used in 1914 and the average cost that year was from $3.00 to $5.00 per barrel. The report also shows that data gathered from the five points under consideration, namely: Rapid City, Deadwood, Chamberlain, Yankton, Lake Andes and Mitchell discloses that a well-equipped plant at Rapid City could manufacture a product equal to the best now on the market, at a maximum price of $1.36 a barrel, on the basis of August 1920 figures.

In selecting the location near Rapid City, the commission declares it found the best grade of cement materials in that vicinity and that owing to the cheaper fuel, water power now available, cheaper quarry operation and other factors, cement could be manufactured there and delivered to the consumers in the state much cheaper than from any other point.

In accordance with the power invested in it by the last regular legislature, the commission has contracted for the purchase of a site near Rapid City, which contains sufficient material of an excellent quality. This site also includes sufficient land for a future town and has municipal water rights, sewerage disposal facilities and fertile soil for home gardens, adjacent to the plant and available for employes' homes.

The commission also reports that a plant of 2,000 barrels a day capacity such as is proposed, would supply about two-thirds of the state's demand and could be built and equipped, including site and operating capital, for about $2,000,000 the estimate based upon August 1920 prices of machinery and materials.

Of the $25,000 appropriated for the investigation the commission has expended to date, $12,658.11, according to the report.

TRIED TO FORCE WIFE ON RIVAL

Finally Sued for Heavy Damages, Alleging Alienation of Affections.

Trenton, N. J.—A remarkable love triangle in which the husband insisted that the "man in the case" either marry or give up forever the wife loved by each of them, was revealed in a $100,000 alienation suit filed here by Charles B. Chisholm, of Newark, N. J., against William C. Parker, society man of Morristown, N. J.

One of the unusual features of the case, as set forth in the affidavits filed with the suit, was that the three principals held numerous conferences at which they discussed the "best way out" for all three. Chisholm says he discussed the situation with both, eventually giving to Parker this ultimatum: "Take her or leave her. You must do either one or the other or face a suit for alienation." Chisholm affirmed that Parker refused to take Mrs. Chisholm, saying that he must first educate his sons.

"Take Her or Leave Her!"

The plaintiff sets forth that the infatuation of the couple had its inception in the summer of 1919, when the Chisholms and the Parks occupied summer cottages at Culver's Lake, N. J. Chisholm says that he became firmly convinced that Parker really loved Mrs. Chisholm and that, following a conference, Parker promised to see no more of Mrs. Chisholm. Parker broke his promise, and the alienation suit followed.

LOVE GONE MAD IN WADE-NOTT MURDER CASE

Warning to Girls

I looked at Mary Soery Wade in the courtroom—a comely, slender girl of 24, of the type we call "nice" and "well brought up."

And I felt that she would like to warn young girls that love must have both elements in it, the personal and the mental.

"When I wrote to Elwood in our sweetheart days," she said from the witness chair, "I wondered he never answered. Years later I found out he could scarcely read. His mother used to help him.

"When we drove out together, we never discussed current events. He talked mostly about horses and of the milk business in which he worked. I tried," she added pathetically, "to be interested in the things he was."

Husband's Stupidity

"After we married I saw he had trouble making out bills. Evenings I tried to teach him simple figuring. It took him a week to learn that if a quart of milk cost 9 cents, a bottle each day for a week would come to 63 cents. And then he forgot it right away.

"He took no interest in me after a short time. And he never cared for the children."

Yet she loved him, and was faithful. Mystery of love! Perversity of love!

Even the older woman, charged with committing murder for love of this boy, is obviously his superior in mental keenness.

Why does she "love" him?

Isn't it enough to send Cupid into panic to watch the working of the poison with which his arrows are sometimes tipped?

Love, like all other emotions, must be checked by reason.

The Wade-Nott case is the result of love gone mad!

SYMPTOMS WOMEN DREAD

Mrs. Wilson's Letter Should Be Read by All Women

Clearfield, Pa.—"After my last child was born last September I was unable to do all of my own work. I had severe pains in my left side every month and had fever and sick dizzy spells and such pains during my periods, which lasted two weeks. I heard of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound doing others so much good and thought I would give it a trial. I have been very glad that I did, for now I feel much stronger and do all of my work. I tell my friends when they ask me what helped me, and they think it must be a grand medicine. And it is. You can use this letter for a testimonial if you wish."—Mrs. HARRY A. WILSON, R. F. D. 5, Clearfield, Pa.

The experience and testimony of such women as Mrs. Wilson prove beyond a doubt that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will correct such troubles by removing the cause and restoring the system to a healthy normal condition. When such symptoms develop as backaches, bearing-down pains, displacements, nervousness and "the blues" a woman cannot act too promptly in trying Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound if she values her future comfort and happiness.

AID IS ASKED FOR CHILDREN ACROSS SEAS

Local Committee Will Seek Funds to Help Starving Central European Children

MANY ENGAGED IN IT

Religious Organizations Join in the Appeal Started by Literary Digest

People of Burleigh county will be asked to help save starving children in central and eastern Europe.

The campaign will be held January 18 and 19. At a meeting held yesterday afternoon at which several persons deeply interested in the campaign inaugurated by Herbert Hoover and the Literary Digest were present, J. A. Roherty was asked to become general chairman of the campaign.

Committees will be named immediately, and it is expected that a substantial sum will be raised in the two days next week. The country-wide campaign began only recently, when the Literary Digest, touched by the reports of conditions, inaugurated it. The fund is asked by the European relief council, and has no connection with the Near East relief or Armenian orphan funds.

Children in Hungary, Czecho Slovakia, Austria, Baltic provinces, Germany and Russian refugees are objects of the relief aid. Unless aid is given to help the children until the next harvest many will perish, it is said.

The following statement was read in congress in explanation of the effort:

The Appeal.

"Three and one-half million children in eastern and central Europe have no alternative to disaster between now and next harvest, except American aid. For months, because the needy were so numerous and the available funds so limited, these most helpless sufferers in the track of war have been admitted to American feeding stations only is tragically undernourished, and have received American medical aid only if desperately threatened by death from disease.

"Winter is closing down. The money of many nations is valueless outside of their own boundaries. Economic and crop conditions, aggravated over considerable areas by actual warfare last summer, make famine, with its terrible train of diseases, a certain visitor until next harvest. Inevitably the helpless children will suffer most. No child can grow to health and sanity on the pitiful makeshifts for food with which millions of European adults must content themselves this winter. It is obvious that the remedy can come only from outside.

"America saved 6,000,000 European children winter before last. Normal recuperation cut the need nearly in half last year, but unusual conditions have resulted in scant shrinkage of child destitution during the twelve months just past. The response of America must now decide whether 3,500,000 of these charges, in acute distress, shall begin to be turned away in January from more than 17,000 asylums, hospitals, clinics, and feeding stations dependent on American support. There would be no tragedy in history so sweeping or so destructive of those who can deserve no evil.

Countries Aid.

"The undersigned organizations, working among every race and creed, many engaged also in other forms of relief, agree unanimously that the plight of these helpless children should have complete priority in overseas charity until the situation is met. This is an issue without politics and without religious lines. There can be no danger of pauperization, for the $23,000,000 for child food and the $10,000,000 for medical service that we seek will relieve only the critical cases. The medical supplies, of course, must be an unqualified gift, but for every American dollar used in child feeding the governments and communities aid furnish $2 in the form of transportation, rent, labor, clerical help, cash contributions, and such food supplies as are locally obtainable.

"America has not failed in the past in great heartedness. She has never had a more poignant call than this. Contributions should be turned over to the local committees which are now being formed for this national collection or sent to Franklin K. Lane, treasurer, Guaranty Trust Co. New York city.

Do This For Constipation

THE public should know that there is a vast difference in the action of the various remedies for constipation. Some are "flushes," purges, physics. They gripe and weaken.

For lasting effect use a laxative. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin acts gently and mildly so that even a tiny baby can use it with safety. It is a compound of Egyptian Senna and other simple laxative herbs with pepsin and pleasant-tasting aromatics. A sixty-cent bottle will last an average family many months.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is the most popular of all laxatives and more is used in American homes than any other. Last year eight million bottles were sold by druggists, the largest sale in the world.

FAMOUS INDIAN GUARD MEETS DEATH

Port Arthur, Ont., Jan. 11.—With the death of Frank Ogema, 84 years of age, Indian guide, trapper and hunter, here recently, this district lost one of its most characteristic figures. For half a century the name "Ogema" has been connected with things primeval. He was a true native of the forest, having been here on the reservation at Nipigon where the famous Indian band occupied their time in fishing and hunting and trapping furs for the Hudson's Bay company and other fur traders.

Ogema was one of the oldest of the Nipigon band and the best known of Indians at the head of the lakes. He was known by almost every miner, hunter, surveyor and construction engineer who had occasion to visit here and the surrounding district. His valuable knowledge of the surrounding territory made him a much sought after guide, especially by prospectors.

ENACTS FIRST LAW.

Pierre, S. D., Jan. 11.—The first law, enacted by the Seventeenth session of the South Dakota legislature becomes effective late this afternoon when Governor W. H. McMaster attaches his signature to the measure which was introduced by Senator Charles Alseth of Kingsbury county.

The bill, which was passed unchanged by the lower house Saturday, authorizes the state treasurer to issue warrants at the lowest possible interest rate, to meet the necessary current expenses of the state, to avoid embarrassment. The warrants will be based upon revenues already assessed for current and preceding years, but which have not been collected. The only change in the original law is that where it limited the interest rate to 5½ per cent. semi-annually, the newly authorized issue is unlimited except by the words "lowest possible rate".

Fix Minimum Wage.

Edmonton, Alta., Jan. 11.—Thirteen dollars a week is the minimum wage that is being recommended to the provincial government to apply by order in council to all female workers and to others under eighteen years of age. For apprentices of less than one year's experience the wage is to be $8.50 per week.

SMART WRAP COMBINES FUR WITH VELVET

BY CORA MOORE,
New York's Fashion Authority.

New York, Jan. .—This fascinating combination of moleskin, fur and embroidery is but one of several interesting adaptations offered this season—sealskin and a deep, rich old blue velvet, for instance, squirrel with gray silk duvetyn, and the tracery done in tarnished gold, if you please, or black velvet and fox.

However, very distinctly a first choice would be the coat-wrap as it is in the original, as soft and pliable as if it were made entirely of chiffon velvet and as warm and cozy as if it were entirely of fur.

Useful Persons Crying Need Says Rev. Copeland

(Contributed)

"For God hath not given us the spirit of fear; but of power, and of love, and of a sound mind," (2 Tim. 1:7) were the words from which Rev. Copeland preached a powerful sermon last night. He said, "There are just two classes of people in the church, the effective and the ineffective. What we need is that our good good-for-nothing folks be transformed into good good-for-something folks. Wesley was a very ordinary man until he was filled with the Holy Spirit, after that he became a veritable storm center of revival power and started a revival that girdled the globe and will bless the world till Jesus comes again." He made an earnest plea to Christians to seek the Baptism of the Holy Spirit and in response to the call quite a number of persons came forward.

Tonight will be Bismarck hospital night. The board of trustees of the hospital will be in the city for their semi-annual meeting and is expected to attend the services in a body, as also the doctors, the nurses and others connected with the institution. The evangelist's theme will be, "Diseases of the Heart". This will be a very interesting and inspiring service. A cordial invitation is extended to the public.

ELTINGE THEATER

A four-cornered love affair, in which no two of the persons involved are in love with each other, provides the material for "The Vice of Fools," by Francis James, visualized by Vitagraph, with Alice Joyce in the stellar role. It will be shown at the Eltinge theater.

At every change in the surprising affairs of the four, disaster seems to threaten. Only Marion Rogers retains any degree of judgment and unselfish consideration for others. The remaining three seek only the fulfillment of their own desires with reckless disregard of everything else.

Alice Joyce as Marion, has unusual opportunities for emotional acting.

THE STATE'S OLDEST NEWSPAPER
(Established 1873)

IS THERE NO SOLUTION?

There is a feeling of genuine regret over the state that an agreement between the financial men and the board of administration cannot be reached. The bankers faced an almost impossible task. Out of the welter of fierce political contention an early settlement of North Dakota's difficulties was hardly to be expected. Parties to the conference belong to opposite schools of finance and to harmonize factions which disagree so violently on fundamentals seemed remote from the first.

Until the financial system of the state is revamped, there will be no market for North Dakota securities. There is only one road for North Dakota to travel and that is the straight and narrow path of sound finance.

There is nothing political in the credit system that operates throughout the nation. North Dakota cannot change the ebb and flow of those processes.

The Tribune sees little hope of securing outside assistance to float industrial securities until the public money is released from its present control and returned to normal channels.

So long as the taxpayers money is tied up in long time loans and used to finance state owned industries in lieu of capital, outside money will not enter the state in any appreciable amounts. So long as other practices obtain that do not reflect sound business principles, this state cannot get the new capital it needs to develop its resources and to give the industrial program the test which the bankers expressed themselves willing to aid.

Nothing can be more apparent to nonpartisan leaguer or independent regardless of political feeling, than that the industrial program within the limits prescribed by the bankers of the state cannot be successfully financed through the use of public moneys levied for specific purposes, and to be held in trust for the discharge of specific obligations. To continue the present practice will bring inevitable disaster to the credit of the state.

The only solution in the opinion of The Tribune is for the state to get on a sound fiscal basis at once and if the political feeling is too deep to accomplish this end now, board up the industries until the deadlock subsides.

WHY BE DISCOURAGED?

Pullman started life with $100 and a peculiar looking passenger car containing beds. He borrowed the money to have that car built, and then became its first conductor and porter. He made up the beds, smoothed down the sheets, stood at the steps selling tickets.

"What is the secret of success in business?" asked a friend of Cornelius Vanderbilt. "Secret? there is no secret about it," replied the commodore; "all you have to do is to first find out what your business is and then attend to it and go ahead."

"Laboremus" (we must work) was the last word of the dying Emperor Severus, as his soldiers gathered around him. "Labor," "achievement," was the Roman motto, and her secret of conquest of the world, says Marden.

The greatest generals returned from their triumphs to the plow. Agriculture was held in great esteem, and it was considered the highest compliment to call a Roman a great agriculturist. Many of their family names were derived from agricultural terms, as Cicero from "cicer," a chick-pea, and Fabius from "faba," a bean, etc.

SUCCESS THAT IS SUCCESS

Says Jonathan Bourne, Jr., once a senator: "Success must always be achieved at the expense of some other individual or state."

Is that so? Do you think this country can be successful only at the expense of another country? That you can be successful only at the expense of another human being? If that be true, success is having something which belongs to another. Then the thief is successful. The highway robber is successful.

Why, man alive, that isn't success at all.

Countless millions of humans have achieved success, and without achieving it at the expense of another. They produced. They did something better than it had been done before. They did things never accomplished before. Tom Edison is a success, isn't he, Mr. Bourne? How about Burroughs? How about other distinguished scientists? They achieve the most remarkable successes, surely not at the expense of another, but rather for the benefit and in the best interest of other humans. How about the world's literary successes? How about the lawmakers? Inventors? Builders?

It may be true that Napoleon achieved success at the expense of other humans? And Caesar. And Captain Kidd. and Jesse James. But, was what they achieved SUCCESS? That sort of "success" well may be eliminated from human ambition.

Bourne's idea of success is to GET something from a fellow human, the worth while idea of success is to DO something for the human race. The latter brand of success is never achieved at the expense of another.

NEW NAMES AND OLD IDEAS

Like the schoolmen of the middle ages who squabbled concerning the exact number of angels who could dance on a needle point, America's wisest scientists gathered in Chicago the other day and held great argument about the size of the ultimate atom. The schoolmen used to slit each other's throats. The scientific men shed no blood in Chicago.

One scientist declared the electron, superl small atom, was a trillionth of a millimeter long and the other chap said it was one four-hundredth of a millimeter.

There's nothing much new about this theory that all we know—iron and gold, the air we breathe and the body itself—is built of inconceivably small particles.

List to Lucretius.

He was a Roman, Lucretius was, and he was born in 5 B. C. and wrote a poem called, "On the Nature of Things."

Therein, he said:

"We perceive the different smells of things, yet never see the smells coming to our nostrils; nor do we behold heat nor can we observe cold with eyes, nor are we used to see voices. Yet all these things must have a bodily nature, since they are able to move the senses, for nothing but body can touch and be touched. * * * Nature therefore, works by unseen bodies."

Then he proceeds to "prove" that all things, no matter how solid, have small holes in them through which the "powder of things" can move.

A bit shaky, Lucretius was, on things in the light of modern information, but just the same—the wise men of a day far beyond his, agree with him and are busy trying to measure the "powder of things," he first described.

Having read Walter Camp's All-American team, we look forward now to Harding's All-American cabinet selections.

EDITORIAL REVIEW

Comments reproduced in this column may or may not express the opinion of The Tribune. They are presented here in order that our readers may have both sides of important issues which are being discussed in the press of the day.

WE NEED OUTSIDE CAPITAL

North Dakota needs and must have outside capital. It must encourage it to come into the state. Capital is one of the most timid things on earth yet nothing flows more freely where it is wanted than money. It is great news for North Dakota that capital is again ready to come to this state. It has been frightened away but confidence has now been restored. It will be at least another generation before North Dakota will become a lending rather than a borrowing state. Any farmer who has had a real estate loan come due this fall knows the difficulty he experienced in even getting the loan continued. A majority of the investors insisted on having the loan paid. It was their money and their right but it made it very embarrassing for many sound farmers to be compelled to hustle up money to take care of the loan when it was practically impossible to negotiate even a small personal loan, money being so tight.

There are no "12 per cent and a bonus" loans being made. Such loans would be illegal as the law limits the interest rate in the state to 10 per cent. Eastern people who sent money to North Dakota at loans at as low a rate as "big bizz" is now offering to pay are neither "wolves" nor "loan sharks". No farmer needs to get mixed up with the few crooked people in the loan business. There are plenty of legitimate loan agents from whom a square deal can always be depended upon. As long as we must have eastern money, we should not do anything hurriedly that will give us cause to regret. The more millions of dollars that can be loaned to our people, the greater will be our prosperity and development. —Carrington, Ind.

IF THE LADY HAD HER WAY

Why Be Discouraged?

Fred Douglas didn't even own his own body. Before his birth he had been pledged to pay his master's debts. But in the dead of night he stole away from the plantation where he was a slave, walked fifteen miles to be with his mother less than an hour, and returned in time to go into the fields at dawn. With her help he mastered the alphabet from a patent medicine almanac and then learned to read.

Amid great hardships he managed to save up $1,000 and with this purchased his freedom.

At 26 he was made marshal of the District of Columbia, the first colored man in the United States to hold such a position.

Henry E. Dixie, the actor, started life as an obscure man and was paid $5 a month "and keep." His first "job" on the stage consisted of impersonating the hind legs of a cow.

When he was asked why he worked so hard to repair a magistrate's bench, and why he took so much delight in doing the work well, a young carpenter replied:

"First, because what is worth doing at all is worth doing well, and secondly because I wish to make it easy against the time when I come to sit upon it myself."

Five years later the same carpenter was hailed as Lord Robert Eleton, under magistrate of London, and became famous through a decision he rendered in the Coster uprising of East End.

HARD

"Put away the Baby's high chair,
He's too old to use it now;
Put away his blocks and rattle,
Cut the curls from off his brow;
He is four years old tomorrow,
And the time does simply fly,
We must make a boy out of him—
There, there Mother, don't you cry."

So they took my little sweetheart,
Cut away his golden curls,
That I loved so much, but "Dad" said
They were only fit for girls;
When they brought my darling to me,
I could not suppress a sigh,
For he looked just like a stranger
To my unaccustomed eye.

Gone were all his silken tresses,
With their rings of shining gold;
And they'd dressed him up in trousers,
Scarce his little weight could hold;
As I clasped him to my bosom,
Fondly calling out his name,
He exclaimed: "Don't worry, Muvver,
I still love oo ist th' same."

Oh, the days, how fast they're flying,
Each one shorter than the rest;
For the sun has scarcely risen,
Ere he sinks down in the west;
Let a tear fall on the dresses,
And the little stock of toys,
For it's hard upon us mothers
When our babies turn to boys.

Mad Railroad Speculation.

Soon after George Stephenson had completed his first locomotive all England was ablaze with the railway fever. In the first nine months of 1845 more than a thousand companies were floated; and October added 363 more. All England scrambled for shares. Then came the crash, followed by a stampede as of wild cattle before a prairie fire.

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

By Oliver Roberts Barton.

"Ishtu Disappears"

Nancy and Nick sat down before the steaming bowls of hot soup that Ishtu the Eskimo set before them.

"Now, children," said he, as he watched them devouring great spoonfuls of the tasty stuff, "when you are through eating you may take a nap on my warm bed."

The little boy and girl thanked him and drained their bowls to the last drop. Such a sleepiness was coming over them suddenly that they could not keep their eyes open. They almost fell into the wall-bed that Ishtu showed them, and before their heads touched the pillow they were sound asleep.

The red sun made his short journey low down in the sky from horizon to horizon, and finally with a good-natured wink slipped behind an iceberg and disappeared. The blue shadows got colder and bluer and darker, and the stars came out one by one, making the frosty world look still colder and frostier.

And still the twins slept.

After while Nick turned over and yawned. "Wake up, Nancy," he said, "it is time for us to go."

Suddenly he stared up at the sky and the twinkling stars which he could see plainly. Had something blown the roof off Ishtu's house?

Nancy sat up and began to start.

Nancy sat up and stared too! For everything had gone and they were in the midst of a snow field!

too! For there was no house anymore, and no fire and no warm bed nor covers. No Ishtu either! Everything had gone and they were out in the midst of a big snow field alone.

"Our magic charms!" cried Nick, looking around for the carved box. "They are all gone!"

Just then they heard a mocking laugh and Nancy was sure she smelled hyacinths. "The Bobadil Jinn!" she exclaimed. "Ishtu must have been the wicked wizard and he has stolen them."

THE SENSE OF INFERIORITY

A Starved Nervous System Takes the Snap Out of the Otherwise Strong and Capable

Imaginary unfitness, the peculiar nervous strain that causes some men to shrink so lamentably is merely a condition of semi-starvation. If you doubt it, let the reconstructive influence of Reolo drive it out of your head completely.

When the nerves have gone smash and the iron has been burned out of the blood, then is the time that the red-blooded fighter lords it all over his pale-faced rival. Reolo is a wonder. It gives you conscious strength. You feel an increased nerve force, nerve control. No more bluff, no halting, no hesitation. With an improved appetite the nerves that were starved cease to cry out with pain, the red corpuscles in the blood increase enormously, there is a tinge of color to the skin and a sense of fitness from head to foot such is the marvelous capacity of the system to respond to the influence of Reolo. This wonderful reconstructive and strenghtening combination so intensifies the activity of the vital processes that you approach any task with a vim that is fairly astonishing.

Ask any of the clerks at Finney's Drug store or any other leading drug store for a $1.00 box of Reolo. Ask them about its wonderful effect upon a host of people they have sold it to.

New Citizens In Field and Orchard

By E. T. Meredith
U. S. Secretary of Agriculture

Durum wheat, introduced in 1899 from Russia, now produces a crop worth $50,000,000 annually.

Egyptian cotton, brought by the scientists of the department in 1901, has become the basis of the long-staple cotton industry in the southwest, valued at $6,000,000 in 1917, $11,000,000 in 1918, and $20,000,000 in 1919.

Alfalfa, a native of central Asia, brought into the Western States in about 1854, has become in a generation almost the basic crop of the west, according to the report.

The sorghums are the basis of the great agricultural development of the semiarid southwest.

Japanese rices, secured in 1899, were the foundations of the great rice industry of Louisiana and Texas.

The Washington Navel orange, introduced from Brazil in 1872, makes up the bulk of the California orange industry, producing a crop valued at approximately $16,000,000 a year.

Sudan grass, introduced in 1909 from Egypt, is now worth over $10,000,000 annually.

Feterita, secured in 1906 from Egypt, produced in 1918 a crop valued at $16,000,000.

Over 1,000 varieties of soy beans have been introduced from China and other parts of the Orient. From these the experts of the department have, after careful tests, selected eight of the best varieties, which are now largely cultivated and are an important element in the very rapid increase in soy bean production.

Peruvian alfalfa, introduced in 1899, is by far the most productive and valuable variety for the southwest.

Absurd Old English Law.

Under the English common law no one has a right to bathe in the sea. This was decided by the courts a hundred years ago, and an attack on the decision at the beginning of this century failed to upset it, the higher court deciding that in the strict legal sense one could fish in the sea but could not bathe in it.

Famous Old Recipe for Cough Syrup

Easily and cheaply made at home, but it beats them all for quick results.

Thousands of housewives have found that they can save two-thirds of the money usually spent for cough preparations, by using the well-known old recipe for making cough syrup at home. It is simple and cheap but it has no equal for prompt results. It takes right hold of a cough and gives immediate relief, usually stopping an ordinary cough in 24 hours or less.

Get 2½ ounces of Pinex from any druggist, pour it into a pint bottle and add plain granulated sugar syrup to make a full pint. If you prefer, use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, it tastes good, keeps perfectly, and lasts a family a long time.

It's truly astonishing how quickly it acts, penetrating through every air passage of the throat and lungs—loosens and raises the phlegm, soothes and heals the membranes, and gradually but surely the annoying throat tickle and dreaded cough disappear entirely. Nothing better for bronchitis, spasmodic croup, hoarseness or bronchial asthma.

Pinex is a special and highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, known the world over for its healing effect on the membranes.

Avoid disappointment by asking your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with full directions and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

DOINGS OF THE DUFFS

Maybe 'Twas a Cream Pie. BY ALLMAN

WOULD MAKE LAND OF LAKES DESERT

St. Paul, Minn., Jan. 11.—Proposed drainage programs in Southern and Central Minnesota threaten to rob Minnesota of its slogan, "The State of 10,000 Lakes," and to turn into arid districts, thousands of acres of rich, productive lands, according to Harry J. LaDue, field secretary of the Minnesota Game Protective League, in a formal statement issued tonight.

Not only would the drainage of lakes in Southern and Central Minnesota result in a loss of moisture which would be detrimental to the productiveness of the land, but the wild game of the state would be sent to other sections, Mr. LaDue said.

"From a careful study of the future plans for huge drainage projects in the Northwest," he stated, "one would imagine that modern man still believes that when he wants moisture all that he has to do is to appeal to the gods, who will turn on the water.

"He will not live to realize his fallacy. Only the children of the third and fourth generations will suffer from his thoughtless tampering with nature. Without water, succeeding generations will not follow.

"Minnesota has a land area of 50,691,200 acres and a water area of 2,662,400 acres. Statisticians report that approximately 28,000,000 acres are used for crops and live stock raising. The balance of 22,000,000 acres produces nothing, except possibly some timber. Two-thirds of the idle area can be developed to produce foods, cattle and fur-bearing animals.

"Heretofore the only protest against this ruthless program has come from the sportsman and the trapper. Their protests have been set aside on the ground that they were merely prompted by selfish motives.

"They resent, however, the accusation that they are prompted by mercenary principles and point with pride to the mighty efforts they have made to preserve natural resources for the use and enjoyment of the people of today and tomorrow. We are today beholden to him alone for all the conservation accomplishments of the nation.

"We are on the threshold of an era which will bring to Minnesota a golden flood from every state—with the automobile and good roads for transportation to our state of Ten Thousand Lakes.

"Millions of persons from other less favored states are being attracted to the beautiful wooded, lake-studded landscape of Minnesota.

"A few years ago the Ten Thousand Lakes of Minnesota association was formed and statistics show that through the efforts of the association in advertising the state, the influx of visitors increased by the association was as follows:

"In 1916, 13,000 visitors in Minnesota spent $750,000.

"In 1917, 17,000 visitors in Minnesota spent $937,500.

"In 1918, 40,000 visitors in Minnesota spent $1,500,000.

"In 1919, 145,000 visitors in Minnesota spent $6,000,000.

"In 1920, 200,000 visitors in Minnesota spent $10,000,000.

"Carlos Avery, state game and fish commissioner, estimated that the intrinsic value of wild life taken annually in Minnesota is $13,500,000; foods being worth $6,000; furs and pelts $1,000,000; commerce depending on wild life, exclusive of tourist trade, $3,000,000; value of birds to agriculture, $3,500,000 and an incalculable esthetic value to persons. Add to this amount the $10,000,000 from tourist trade and the total is $28,000,000.

"Drainage experts have been careful to say they do not contemplate the destruction of lakes of sufficient depth to furnish boating and a habitat for fish. They have only in mind the drainage of marshes and shallow lakes—the natural habitat of wild fowl and many fur bearing animals. They studiously avoid mentioning a fact which other states have realized to their sorrow. The gradual and persistent drainage of marshes tends to lower the underground water level of the state.

"Thus has the water level of Iowa been lowered more than nine feet in the past few years. The effect on the remaining lakes and streams is disastrous, to say the least. In Southern Minnesota thousands of tons of fish perish in lakes of this character during periods of extremely low temperature."

GUARD SERVICE HIT

Fourteen States Have No Militia, Reports General Carter.

Strength of 56,100 is Shown, as Against 108,300 Men Authorized by the Government.

Washington.—Fourteen states had no National Guard troops recognized by the federal government on June 30, according to the annual report of Maj. Gen. Jesse Carter, chief of the militia bureau, just made public. They were Arkansas, Delaware, Illinois, Indiana, Louisiana, Massachusetts, Montana, Nebraska, Nevada, New Hampshire, New Mexico, North Dakota, South Dakota and West Virginia.

The recognized units of the guard had a total strength of 56,100 officers and men at the end of the fiscal year, the report said, against an authorized strength of 108,300, great difficulty having been encountered in obtaining recruits during the year. General Carter noted general public antipathy toward military affairs as among influences against which the reorganization of the guard was proceeding. Discontent with the National Guard service, he added, had been fostered by "tales of unfair treatment during the war spread by men with grievances, many of which found their way into the public press."

Such complaints, General Carter said, could not be substantiated upon investigation.

"There is conclusive proof," he continued, "that National Guard officers were not, as a class, discriminated against by Regular officers. Individual cases of injustice have been cited by members of congress and of the National Guard to make it appear that unjust discrimination existed generally. As a general rule National Guard officers were treated with more consideration than were regular officers under the same conditions.

Causes which retarded recruiting have been gradually overcome with the result that in June more than 5,700 new men were obtained, the report said.

Jealousies between National Guard units returning from overseas and those organized as home forces during the war have arisen, the report said, the latter wishing to continue as guard troops and retain possession of the armories. Steps to remedy this situation are being taken, General Carter said.

GERMANY BARS OWN OFFICERS

Former Naval Men Are in Disgrace—Seek Employment in United States.

London, England.—Former German naval officers, even those who served on German warships in the battle of Jutland, are in disgrace in Germany, say some of them who have arrived here.—The captain of a cruiser which fought in the Jutland battle and a German naval lieutenant came into the Thames the other day as officers of a Swedish cargo boat. Both said it was almost impossible for former naval officers to make a living in their own country.

"We are considered to be in disgrace," said one. "The business community believes that the fleet betrayed the fatherland and caused its ruin, and the result is that no German trader or ship owner will employ us. Many of us, therefore, have been forced to take service abroad and several have found employment in the American mercantile marine."

PUBLIC ROADS

GRANITE BLOCK FOR PAVING

Material Regarded as Particularly Suitable for Trunk Lines Entering Large Cities.

Study of various paving materials suitable for much-traveled highways has disclosed interesting data on granite blocks to the bureau of public roads of the United States department of agriculture. Many road builders are coming to regard this material as particularly suitable for trunk lines entering large towns and cities where there is an increasing amount of heavy traffic.

Though the initial cost of granite block construction is high, the maintenance of the pavement, if properly laid and grouted, is less than that of almost any other type of pavement. In Worcester, Mass., over a period of 10 years the average maintenance cost per yard was less than a half cent This also is true in other cities, regardless of the fact that in general the streets covered with granite block paving are those carrying the most severe traffic.

The Maintenance Cost of This Kind of Pavement, if Properly Laid, Is Less Than That of Almost Any Other Kind of Pavement.

ROAD TESTS IN CALIFORNI

Over Adobe Land Concrete Is Laid o Sides With Macadam in Middle —Surface Topped.

An experiment in road constructio over adobe land is being made in section of the county highway betwe Bay Point and Pittsburg, in Ca fornia.

Experience has shown that concret roads built over adobe land results i the cracking and disintegrating of th w rd in a few seasons and in an effo to overcome this trouble Count Surveyor Arnold is having the link o the county highway constructed in manner tried in several eastern state and proved successful.

The concrete is laid in two separat sections, each eight feet wide with a two-foot strip through the center. In this strip is placed oil macadam which is rolled level to the surface of the concrete and the entire surface is faced with a topping.

GOOD ROADS ARE ESSENTIAL

Success of Motor Truck Express Lines Depends Greatly on Character of Highways.

The success of the motor truck express depends to a very large degree on the character of the roads over which the routes run. Bad roads increase the operating costs, and consequently the rates to patrons, beyond the point of economy. Trucks are destructive to roads unless the roads are permanently built. Therefore, the problem of improving and developing the marketing facilities for farmers through the establishment of truck motor express lines is directly connected with the problem of permanent improvement of the highways.

TRUCK IS QUITE EFFICIENT

Cost of Construction and Maintenance Is Lowered One-Half by Use of Equipment.

In the construction and maintenance of the earth roads in the rural sections, the most efficient equipment yet found consists of a road grader drawn by a five-ton truck. This equipment will do the common grading such as is usually done on this type of road for about one-half the cost of doing the same work with teams in the old way.

MANURE CARRIER IS USEFUL

Cost of Handling Fertilizer Is Materially Reduced—Hauled to Fields Immediately.

The cost of handling manure may be reduced by the use of a carrier and an overhead track. The usual plan is to throw the manure into the carrier this requires but one handling. The carrier is then dumped into the spreader which is hauled to the fields and unloaded by the horses. Manure is thus handled but once.

Good Things Must Be Plucked.

This world belongs to the man who tries. Its fruits of wealth, power, fame are to be had for the plucking. But it is useless to sit idly beneath the tree and wait for the fruit to drop, for some other fellow usually does the plucking.

SWIFT PLANES FLY TO CUBA

First Air Mail Service Between United States and Foreign Country.

ALSO CARRIES PASSENGERS

Runs Between Key West and Havana, Crossing in an Hour the Gap Which Takes Steamers an Entire Night to Bridge.

New York—Regular air mail service between the United States and a foreign country is now being carried on as surely as regular trans-Atlantic ship mail service.

Every day since November 1 huge aeromarine navy cruisers, freighted with several hundred pounds of mail and ten or twelve passengers, have been running on schedule between Key West, Florida, and Havana, Cuba, crossing in an hour the gap which takes a steamer an entire night to bridge.

The big flying boats travel through the air with the sureness of a locomotive along its rails or a steamer across a smooth sea, for they were specially built to fly over oceans for long distances and have been subjected to a very rigorous test by the United States navy before being placed in the service.

Testing the Air Yachts.

As a means of testing their stamina and reliability the two aeromarine cruisers were flown down the Atlantic coast from New York to Havana, a distance of 1,000 miles, just before the Key West-Havana mail service was inaugurated. The 1,600 miles were ticked off behind them as regularly as a watch marks off the seconds, although no effort was made to try for a speed record. The big cruisers can do 100 miles an hour, but this is not unsurpassable speed for a plane by any means. The aeromarines, with their luxurious cabins and other fine passenger facilities are not racing planes but air yachts designed to carry passengers swiftly, yet in comfort.

According to reports reaching New York, the big air cruisers, named the Pinta and Santa Maria in honor of two of the caravels of Columbus, "hopped" to Norfolk, Va., on the first day of the journey and there permitted the score of passengers and the members of the crews to see something of the town.

Manteo, on the island of Roanoke, where Virginia Dare, the first white child born in America, first saw the sun, was the next stop, but it was not wholly because Virginia was born here that the big ships glided down to the water. It was near Manteo, on Kill Devil dunes, that the Wright brothers made the first flight in a motor-propelled airplane. That was in 1903 and the flight lasted but 59 seconds and was only for a few hundred feet. Stops were also made on the southward tour at Southport, N. C.; Georgetown, S. C.; Charleston, S. C.; St. Augustine, Fla.; Fort Pierce, Fla., and Miami, Fla.

The aeromarines completed their first mail-carrying tour to Havana on November 1, alighting in Havana harbor amid the cheers of a crowd which seemed to be the entire population of the city. Five hundred pounds of mail was delivered on the initial trip. This amount is 21,000 letters. Each letter bore a stamp indicating that it traveled by the first airplane mail service between the United States and a foreign country.

Description of the Planes.

The planes used in the flight have a wing spread of 104 feet, are 50 feet long and are powered by two 400-horse power Liberty motors. They differ from navy planes of the F-5L type in that they are equipped with two cabins, each of which is furnished in mahogany, with silver fittings and finishings which compare with those of a millionaire's yacht.

The main cabin is forward of the wings, and contains six luxurious reclining chairs, upholstered in brown leather, each beside a large porthole, shaded by old blue and gold silk tapestry curtains. The operating compartment is next, and behind it is the after cabin, furnished as a club compartment for cards, writing, smoking, etc.

The passengers who made the flight southward—included—officials of the company and their wives, two women writers, a nine-year-old boy, and others. After the first flight the passengers came to regard their tour in much the same light as a cruise in a big yacht, save that the swiftly-changing scenery from two to three thousand feet up is far more interesting and fascinating.

Could Not Fool Blind Man.

Americus, Ga.—Henry Otin has been carrying a chain because he could not make a blind man take a newspaper clipping for a $1 bill. Otin's conviction was brought about when Ed Jenkins, blind coroner of Sumter county, unerringly rejected several slips of paper handed him in court and identified the one Otin had passed him for the dollar note Judge Harper assessed Otin's punishment at twelve months on the chain gang.

An Earthly Eden.

Mount Olivet, Ky.—When Circuit court convened the docket was blank and adjournment was immediate. The grand jury met, but didn't have anything to consider.

CRUSHING HEADS IS LEWIS' BUSINESS

New Mat Champ Puts His Faith in Deadly Headlock

BY DEAN SNYDER

The business of crushing heads is going to pick up. Ed "Strangler" Lewis new heavyweight wrestling champion, is ready to challenge any man in the world.

Since he took the title from Joe Stecher with his deadly, vise-like headlock hold, Lewis has a new faith in his powers.

"I believe my headlock hold is unbeatable," he says.

Lewis put the strangle hold into the wrestling code several years ago But it was too deadly. Officials barred it along with the toe hold.

Shifted Lock

Then the "Strangler" got an idea. He shifted his lock up from around the necks of opponents to their heads.

It required a lot of practice to perfect this new hold. More strength in the arms was necessary to make it effective.

But Lewis has got it down "pat" now.

When he isn't practicing his hold on human heads he uses a wooden, springy conk.

"Beating Stecher was the hardest match I ever had," he says.

"After we had been battling for an hour and 40 minutes we both speeded up. I clamped a headlock on him. He broke it. I slipped to the floor. Instantly I was caught in his terrible scissors, dreaded by all wrestlers as much as my headlock.

Stecher's Power

"Stecher's legs are so powerful that he can break a sack of grain wide open at both ends by squeezing it with his legs.

"How one's body can withstand such a squeezing, I don't know.

"I broke his scissors in four minutes.

"Then I got more headlocks which he broke until the seventh. He was so weakened then that I felt safe in pinning him.

"The last ten minutes of the match were so strenuous that Stecher was practically unconscious when he lost. I, too, had spent all my strength. They helped me out of the ring. But the prize was worth it."

Town Hero

Lewis didn't realize the worth of the championship until he got home to San Jose, Cal. The town gave him a public welcome. He was their first world champion.

The champion's wife is Dr. Ada Morton-Lewis. She has a large practice in San Jose.

She takes great pride in her husband's strength.

"I get a thrill every time he throws an opponent," she says.

Expensive training quarters are installed in the Lewis home—a gift from his wife.

Also the champion has a 7-months-old baby girl. In the arms of the strongest man in the world it is almost completely hidden. Lewis declares she'll be a champion in some woman's sport when she grows up.

PRATT HOLDS WHIP HAND OVER FRAZEE

Del Pratt may change his mind

If he doesn't, Harry Frazee won't be able to deny that his deal with the Yankees was a raid instead of a trade.

Pratt is under a three-year contract to coach at the University of Michigan.

When he turned in his travel-stained uniform at the Yankee clubhouse last fall he said he was through with baseball. Two weeks later he was out on Ferry Field coaching the yearling pigskin booters.

Get Sandwich

A few weeks ago when Miller Huggins out-swapped Frazee, giving Ruel, Vick, Thormahlen and Pratt for Schang, Harper, McNally and Hoyt, it looked like the Red Sox had gotten a sandwich for a banquet. It was known then that Pratt was on the outside.

Pratt's coaching contract calls for $5000 a year.

Frazee padded this salary so high that he thinks Del will fall for it.

Spilled Beans

The Red Sox owner is said to have kept the secret dark that he got $25,000 extra cash in the trade But a Boston sport writer spilled the beans.

The bean spiller claims that Frazee needed some ready cash for his theatrical ventures and "gyped" his ball club to get it. The same quill-wielder totals up a column showing that Frazee has received $227,500 in cash from Ruppert and Huston—all at the expense of the ball club

Boston fans say that Frazee can take his choice between being called a sucker trader or admitting that he got some boot.

Frazee's Fix

So Frazee is in a tight fix unless Pratt does consent to work for him next season.

Pratt played his best game last season for the Yanks He might keep up his speed this year if he chooses to get back into baseball togs

Michigan got Pratt especially to coach baseball The school has held the Western Conference championship for three seasons.

So Del is between two rose bushes—a good thing at Ann Arbor and a chance to make Frazee come through with some real jack.

SUCH IS LIFE

Henry Clay was so gracious and impressive in his manner that a Pennsylvania tavern keeper tried to induce him to get out of the stage coach in which they were riding, and make a speech to himself and his wife.

A New York lady had just taken her seat in a car on a train bound for Philadelphia, when a somewhat stout man sitting just ahead of her lighted a cigar. She coughed and moved uneasily, but the hints had no effect, so she said tartly:

"You probably are a foreigner, and do not know that there is a smoking car attached to the train. Smoking is not permitted here."

The man made no reply, but threw his cigar from the window.

What was her astonishment when the conductor told her, a moment later, that she had entered the PRIVATE car of General Grant.

She withdrew in confusion, but the same fine courtesy which led him to give up his cigar was shown again as he spared her the mortification of even a questioning glance, still less a look of amazement, although she watched his dumb, immovable figure with apprehension until she reached the door.

STORE CLOSED; OWNER LEAVES CITY SUDDENLY

Frankenhoff's Place Is In Hands of Sheriff Welch

The cigar, news and candy store of F. J. Frankenhoff, on Broadway, was in the hands of sheriff Welch today, having been abandoned by the owner Saturday night. Several attachments were in the sheriff's hands, and the stock of goods will be disposed of.

Frankenhoff is said to have left the city Saturday night after asking a friend to watch his store while he went to a movie show. Frankenhoff played baseball here last summer and opened up the store at the conclusion of the baseball season. Several attachments were filed on the place aggregating several hundred dollars.

ART'S HEART ACHES

But M. Benedite Says "She Will Come Back"

(N. E. A. Staff Special.)

CHICAGO, Jan. 11.—Art went to pot during the war.

But it is staging a comeback now.

That's what M. Leonce Benedite, director of the Luxembourg and Rodin art museums, now in Chicago, thinks. Says he:

"Art, she aches with the war! She feels the brutality of the trenches! It is horrible! But; she will come back. She is coming back. Already we do feel that it is so. The new art! Ah, it will be so grand!"

Benedite was a lifelong friend of the famous sculptor, Rodin, and is famous as a critic and judge of art.

He is inspecting Chicago's art treasures.

Monopolist Makes It With Snow In Albania

(N. E. A. Staff Special)

SCUTARI, Albania, Jan. 11.—Northern Albania has but one ice cream freezer.

Sutni Maruffi has the ice cream market cornered. His product is made of goat's milk and is frozen with snow carried from the mountains 10 miles away on the backs of mules.

When the mules' tinkling bells are heard the residents, Christian and Mohammedan, gather in Maruffi's garden to watch him turn the freezer.

When Red Cross workers asked Maruffi to make ice cream from condensed milk they had with them, he argued it couldn't be done. They showed him how.

DEBS VOTE IN NATION SHORT OF MILLION

Harding Plurality Over Cox Is More Than Seven Million Votes

DRYS GET 187,000

General Election Showed a Total Popular Vote of 26,759,708

NEW YORK, Jan. 11.—Interesting comparisons of the popular vote for President in 1920 and 1916 are made possible by official figures of various state election canvassing boards, compiled by The Associated Press and made public here today. They show a total popular vote of 26,759,708 for the candidates of seven parties as compared with a total popular vote of 18,515,940 for the candidates of five parties in 1916. The returns from Tennessee alone are unofficial.

More Than $7,000,000

Harding's plurality over Cox was 7,001,763. Four years ago President Wilson's plurality over Charles Evans Hughes was 591,385. New York state gave Harding a vote of 1,668,411, his largest return in any one state, as compared with 889,745 for Cox. Ohio, the state of both the republican and democratic candidates, gave Harding 1,182,022 and Cox 780,037. Illinois gave them, respectively, 1,420,480 and 534,394 and Pennsylvania 1,218,315 and 503,202.

The 1920 vote for Eugene V. Debs, socialist candidate, was 914,869 while in 1916 Benson polled only 585,113. Four years previously, however, Debs rolled up a vote of 897,011. The socialist party vote in New York State was 203,114, a gain of 167,170 over 1916 and of 139,733 over 1912. Debs polled only 28 votes in South Carolina and 36 in Idaho while in Vermont the party filed no nomination.

Got Only 187,470

Dr. Aaron Watkins, nominee of the Prohibitionists, polled a total vote of 187,470, a decrease of 33,036 from the party vote of 1916. Out of a total of more than half a million votes cast in North Carolina, the "dry" candidate received 17. Georgia gave him 8. Greater New York, including New York, Bronx, Kings, Queens and Richmond counties, with a total vote of 1,376,788, polled 1,660 "dry" ballots.

The total vote polled by Parley Christensen, Farmer-Labor nominee, was 252,435, all cast in eighteen states. Cox, the Socialist-Labor candidate, received 42,950 votes and Macauley, nominee of the Single Tax party, 5,747.

CITY FATHERS TO MEET IN DETROIT

Detroit, Mich., Jan. 11.—City officials and representatives of commercial organizations of all municipalities on the Great Lakes and in territory immediately tributary to the lakes will be asked to attend a meeting here early next spring when an effort will be made to develop a closer union between rail and water transportation companies.

The meeting is to be called by the Detroit Board of Commerce and 200 representatives from Cleveland, Chicago, Milwaukee, St. Paul, Minneapolis and other lake ports are expected to attend, according to announcement by Board of Commerce officials. A permanent organization probably will be formed, it is announced.

One of the chief objects of the meeting, according to the announcement, will be the erecting of freight interchange between railroads and steamship companies. Other problems to be discussed will include harbor development. Chamber of Commerce officials declared the organization that it is expected will be formed, probably will seek legislation more favorable to shippers.
